To whom it may concern:

We have recently used Paul Tomblin of B2B Cashflow Solutions to assist us in securing a new company vehicle. Having not purchased for the company before, we found Paul's flexibility and advice invaluable. He came to visit us, explaining the process in a straightforward manner and even making suggestions about sourcing the vehicle itself. He also offered to meet up whilst he was away on holiday to expedite the process for us!

The dealer from who we eventually bought the vehicle tried to offer us finance which we flatly refused as it was more expensive than the B2B solution, with little or no advice, in complete contrast to Paul's helpful approach.
